Green Isle was platted in 1881, and given a name allusive of Ireland, the Emerald Isle.
The City of Green Isle is a “Premier City on the Move” within Sibley County. With one of the newest and most advanced water and wastewater systems in the area, the City of Green Isle has worked diligently to ensure that our water and wastewater services are second to none.

The City of Green Isle has been experiencing a great deal of growth with housing developments on all four corners of the city.

Whatever your preference for housing may be, Green Isle offers it, from single family custom homes, in any style or size, to single level twin and quad homes for the individual that doesn’t want the upkeep of a large yard or a lot of steps to shovel.

The amount of growth, as well as the commitment from the City to provide as many services as possible in such a small community, is what led the city to the opening of a Charter School, which welcomed students in the fall of 2005. The school serves preschool age through sixth grade.
